

An Important Reminder - Silence is Golden

In preparation for tournament etiquette and rules (as well as to preserve the sanity of the parent chaperones!) we always stress a “no talking, no noise” rule during club sessions. During a match, talking is not allowed. The risk is a forfeit. Losing a game is fine and healthy, but losing for talking is a bummer. Remember, always raise your hand if you need adult assistance. Parents, please help emphasize this policy with your young chess players.
